

YEAGER | LAW | FIRM

SERVING YOUR FAMILY AND BUSINESS

Dedicated to Personalized Service

The Yeager Law Firm is a civil law practice serving Central Texas, including Williamson, Travis and surrounding counties. Our firm's practice includes: business law, family law, intellectual property law, civil litigation and dispute resolution. We strive to set up fee structures that are fair, flexible, easy to administer, and appropriate for the task at hand.

Business Law Solutions

Transactions and Contracts - We represent businesses of all sizes with their transactional matters. We are well versed in drafting, executing and administering the legal documents important to your business, and our experience ranges from advising businesses on their rights and responsibilities under a contract to negotiating contract terms to drafting complex, multi-party agreements.

Trial Law Solutions

Dispute Resolution and Litigation - When disputes arise, we offer creative, timely, and strategic counsel to help you solve your legal matters while keeping your goals in mind. Achieving a resolution does not always mean a trip to the courthouse. We want to produce favorable results for you, whether that means negotiating a fair settlement or trying a case in the courtroom. If you believe you have a claim or you have been sued and need representation in a civil matter, we welcome you to contact us.

Family Law Solutions

Family Law problems involve the most significant aspects of a person's life: intimate relationships, parenthood and financial health. All of these areas are thrown into upheaval during a divorce. Our goal is to help you navigate through the turbulence and reach a place of stability -- a place where you can begin a new chapter in your life. We are dedicated to providing both sound legal advice and, when necessary, effective courtroom representation -- in a constructive and cost-effective manner.
